

Endelave Flyveplads

Jens Toft
Adelvej 27,
Højmark,
6940 Lem.
9734 3233
4011 4031
>toftair@mail.dk<
www.toftairforce.dk.

2017

Endelave. Kattegat island

Unless you are a pilot or sailing by yourself, you must take the ferry from Snaptun to get to Endelave.

The ferry port Snaptun is put away in a corner of Denmark, but when you in Horsens go towards Juelsminde on route 451 you are on the right track. Take the car with you or leave it at the port of Snaptun. The trip takes 1 hour and you can enjoy the weather and look for small whales and seals in good weather on the deck. The coffee can be enjoyed in the salon. Maybe together with your own food basket.

On the island, bicycles can be rented or you can walk on foot. Unless you, as a member of a group, can take part in an arranged trip by tractor wagon on the island. The trip takes you through the nature area "Øvre" (the northern part of the island) and passes the old manor house "Louisenlund" at the southeast end of the island continuing through the protected wilderness forest to the east coast.

Lunch or dinner can be enjoyed at the inn. The Herbal Garden is worth a visit, where you can buy coffee or have a light lunch. The Fish and Smokehouse 1 kilometer east of the village serves sea food. At the harbor there is a grill during the holiday season. If you want to stay at Endelave, the inn has rooms, the campsite is letting out cabins or you can bring your own tent. Bed and breakfast is all so available.

In the village you can see beautiful old houses and visit the museum in the old rectory from 1741 with the a memorial room for the steam ferry "Agda" that went down with man and mouse a winter night during the WW II after hitting a mine. In the old school from 1828 just next to the church there is a summer shop. The island also has a small grocery store. The church is dating from the 15th century.

Everywhere on the island there are wild rabbits and deers are often seen in the cemetery. A great nature experience is a two-hour walk from the airport along the southwest coast past the "Kloben". Walking along, you can see swans and other types of waterfowl, various types of shorebirds, and along the high cliffs swarms of sand martins. In the high cliffs you can often see burials from the stone- and bronze age. At the seaside, a large one cylinder ship engine is seen from the ship (a ketch) "Gudrun" of Fredericia which was wrecked in 1970. And maybe you're lucky and will find a message in a bottle! Leaving the coastline along the path passing the scout camp, which is also an island camp. And then it's only a 500 meters walk to the airport.

There are up to 4 ferry departures daily. On weekdays the first ferry leaves Snaptun at 8 o'clock. Most weekdays the last ferry departs from Endelave at 16:00. For cars and larger groups, space should be reserved on the ferry. www.mf-endelave.dk Phone: 3036 9175
www.endelave.dk